Floor Leader Says No New Taxes Needed To Finance Aid to Schools

Beck Recalled Before Senate Investigators

By G. MILTON KELLY

Washington (AP)—Senate racketeers investigators called President Dave Beck of the Teamsters Union for a new round of questioning today about his handling of union funds.

He appears today with a new attorney, but he has given no indication he will be any more communicative than he was last March. Then he took refuge behind the Fifth Amendment's protection in refusing to tell the senators whether he had diverted $320,000 of union moneys to his own use. He pleaded that answers might incriminate him.

At the March hearing, Beck's chief counsel was former Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.), who since has withdrawn. His new lawyer is Edward Bennett Williams.

Beck since has been indicted on federal income tax charges. He is free on bond.

Whether he answers questions or not, Beck has stern orders from Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) to sit through the public hearings at which McClellan said other witnesses will give "derogatory" testimony about Beck.

McClellan said he wants to quiz Beck on these three scores in hearings to continue "well into next week":

1. Beck's handling of union funds, and reputed profits from business dealings with his own union.

2. Whether Beck has any ammunition with which to back up his now repudiated comment to newsmen that if he told all he knew it could "blow the lid right off the Senate." Beck later said he was misquoted.

3. Whether Beck has any knowledge about what McClellan termed a "conspiracy" to prevent committee from locating four key missing witnesses—Beck's son Dave Jr. among them.

Butler Woman Still In Running In Mrs. America Contest

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Eytz, of Butler, Pa.—Mrs. Pennsylvania—picked up a Pennsylvania Dutch recipe in Florida as reinforcement for her cooking efforts in the Mrs. America competition.

Her assignment for today was to prepare two items for a meal, the main dish and an iced dish, in competition with other entrants. It's one phase of the contest which will wind up in selection of Mrs. America Saturday night.

Mrs. Eytz wasn't saying whether she planned to use the new recipe for the contest. It's a sauce for ham, and is compounded of mustard, vinegar, ginger and honey. Chief Don Britton of the hotel where she is staying passed it along to Mrs. Eytz, along with the advice that he prefers to use hams from Pennsylvania.

Remaining contest events call for Mrs. Eytz, brunette mother of five, to compete tomorrow in sewing and ironing, and on Friday in desert making and table setting.

Jaycee Clean Up Squad Will Be Busy Again This Evening

The Jaycee Clean-Up Squad was swamped during the first pickup Tuesday evening, according to reports today. Collections were scheduled for the east side and Chairman Leonard Johnson stated today that it was impossible to cover the section the first night. Further collections will be made in that area again this evening.

It was also emphasized that tonight's pickup west of the Conewango and the South Side will go on as scheduled. Headquarters, as was the case last evening, will be at War Memorial Field. Work-

Huge General Appropriation Measure, Harbinger of Early Adjournment, Being Drafted

Harrisburg (AP)—Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said today a plan to pay $30,000,000 in increased state aid for schools can be financed without imposing any new taxes.

"This is going to be kept within the 1½-billion-dollar budget for which we already have raised enough by retaining existing taxes," he told a newsman. "No new taxes of any kind are planned."

Johnson said the school aid plan—sharply revising the formula for making the payments—would be carried to the House Republican caucus later in the day in quest of rank-and-file support.

Johnson said no floor action on the measure was planned until tomorrow—and possibly as late as next week. He said technical errors must be removed by amendment.

The GOP leader also disclosed that the huge general appropriation bill—usually a harbinger of early adjournment—was being drafted for possible presentation next week.

Only subsidies—such as those to state-aided colleges, hospitals and homes—will be kept out of the general appropriation bill, he said. If that plan is followed, the measure would probably appropriate the largest single sum in the history of the commonwealth—possibly as much as a billion dollars.

Other legislative developments: School Construction—The Senate received legislation last night raising the ceiling on school construction qualifying for state aid. The 725-million-dollar ceiling in the current school year would jump immediately to 775 millions and increase in steps annually until it reaches $1,200,000,000 in the 1960-61 school year.

Wage Tax Exemptions—The Senate turned down a plan to exempt non-residents from local wage taxes imposed by more than 400 municipalities and school districts in Pennsylvania. The vote was 15-29 and ran across party lines.

Merchandise Stamps—The Senate was asked to look into the distribution of merchandise trade stamps—a practice Sen. Benjamin Donolow (D-Phila.) contended was so widespread that one funeral director offered them.

State Spending—The Senate State Government Committee approved a plan designed by Republicans to curtail spending by the Leader administration.

Sales Tax—The House concurred in Senate amendments to spell out specifically the exemption if coal from the 3 per cent sales tax. The measure went to Gov. Leader's Desk.

"Ash Pond" Cleaning Under Way at Penelec

Cleaning of the massive "ash ponds" at Pennsylvania Electric power plant in Star Brick should be completed in about ten days, according to a statement this morning from Richard McClellan, plant superintendent.

Each year the two ponds collect some 30,000 tons of ash which is carried into them by water from a filter system, and then allowed to settle. The ponds are drained annually and the ash is used for fill north of the plant along the three-lane highway.

McClellan said the ash accumulates from the 1,000 tons of coal burned each day at the Penelec plant. An extensive filter system removes 98 per cent of this ash from the residue which chuffs up the stack from four furnaces.

Brown Brothers Co. of Curwensville is contractor for cleaning the "ponds" which are 600 feet long, 300 feet wide, 20 feet deep.

As previously announced, pickup trucks are followed by salvage collectors, and money realized from sale of scrap is to be used in the purchase of rubbish containers to be placed in parks in the borough.

A special appeal was made by the committee today for citizens to place rubbish in cartons or other containers. The work of the collectors is slowed down considerably when scrap and rubbish are left loose along the curbs.

ers are reminded to report at six o'clock.

For advertising matter third-class mail, the administration is asking a 1 cent raise on individual piece mailings, now 2 cents for the first two ounces, and an increase of 2 cents per pound on bulk mailings.

Yesterday the committee formally approved increased rates on first-class and domestic air mail that would add an estimated $365,800,000 a year in postal revenues.

These included increasing the first-class letter rate from 3 to 4 cents an ounce, post cards from 2 to 3 cents each, and air mail from 6 to 7 cents an ounce.

Congress still must approve any rate hikes.

Cites Need For Expansion Of Postal Budget

Washington, (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield advised Republican congressional leaders today that increasing mail volume may require expanding the 1958 postal budget by millions of dollars.

In the face of the congressional budget cutting drive, this word was offered at President Eisenhower's weekly meeting with GOP Senate and House leaders. Summerfield sat in on the session.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the required extra funds might be on the order of 43 million dollars. That is the amount of emergency funds Congress is providing to see the Post Office Department through the present fiscal year ending June 30. Summerfield asked for 49 million.

Knowland also told reporters that Eisenhower indicated he will make a television-radio appeal to the people on behalf of "budget and defense needs" at an early date.

This was the most positive word so far that Eisenhower definitely will carry his case to the public for his 72-million-dollar budget. Knowland said no specific date was mentioned.

In advance of the White House parley, congressional Democrats joined Republicans in applauding Eisenhower's decision to carry the fight for his program directly to the people.

Law Fixing Legal Hours For Taprooms in Senate

Harrisburg (AP)—Legislation setting the legal hours for public sale of alcoholic beverages on local time was returned to the Senate today with House approval.

The measure conforms with the Liquor Control Board's ruling this year that bars across the state open and close on local time. It would remove the board's authority to fix legal hours by Standard Time, which was done last year.

Bars now must close at 2 a. m. local time Monday through Friday and at midnight Saturday. In communities observing Daylight Time, this would be 1 a. m. and 11 p. m. Standard Time.

The measure went to the Senate for agreement on an amendment making it effective immediately.

Extended forecast for Thursday, May 9, through Monday, May 13: Western Pennsylvania: Temperature will probably average 7 degrees above normal south and 5 degrees above normal north, rising trend and then continued warm, precipitation may occur as showers and scattered thunderstorms Thursday and Friday and possibly over the weekend but may be rather spotty with amounts around ¼ inch.

Washington (AP)—The House Post Office Committee today considers the increased postage rates the administration has asked for magazines, newspapers and advertising matter.

For advertising matter third-class mail, the administration is asking a 1 cent raise on individual piece mailings, now 2 cents for the first two ounces, and an increase of 2 cents per pound on bulk mailings.

Yesterday the committee formally approved increased rates on first-class and domestic air mail that would add an estimated $365,800,000 a year in postal revenues.

Kiantone Man Faces Charge of Abetting 1953 Ohio Slaying

Erie (AP)—A New York man was in Erie County Jail today awaiting a hearing on charges he helped his brother kill a 70-year-old Ohio engineer four years ago.

Leroy R. Magee, the father of seven, was arrested yesterday at his home near Kiantone, south of Jamestown, N. Y.

Magee waived extradition and was brought to Erie for arraignment on a murder charge in connection with the 1953 slaying of George Harrington of Conneaut, Ohio. He pleaded innocent.

Justice of the Peace Joseph Kresciman ordered Magee held without bond pending a hearing Friday.

Herbert Johnson Jr., Erie County district attorney, said Magee was implicated in the slaying by his brother, Keith Magee, who was convicted of murder and sentenced to life in Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh.

Harrington's burned body was found in the trunk of his auto near Erie in 1953.

Johnson said Leroy admitted in a signed statement that he helped Keith dispose of Harrington's body although Leroy denied being involved in the killing.

Pittsburgh Men Accused Of Macing Are Cleared

Pittsburgh (AP)—Four former officials of the Fine Administration have been cleared of conspiracy charges involving the alleged macing of state employees.

Judge Samuel A. Weiss of Allegheny County Criminal Court dismissed the charges yesterday after the Commonwealth had presented the last of nine witnesses in the second day of the trial.

"I have never entertained a weaker case in all my living years on the bench," said Judge Weiss in granting a defense motion for dismissal.

The defendants were all Republicans.

They were accused of conspiring to force state employees to contribute money for political purposes.

Fine Progress Is Reported By Committee On Plans For Mid-Summer Mardi Gras in July

Assignments for the week-long festival celebrating this nation's 181st Independence Day have all been confirmed, according to word this morning from Publicity Chairman Creed A. Erickson, Jr. Subcommittee chairmen are rapidly rounding out final plans for Warren's Mid-Summer Mardi-Gras, Erickson added, creating a wealth of activity in the air.

Already Parade Chairmen Don Owens and Bill Farnick have an impressive array of entries for the bang-up procession on Saturday, July 6th, beginning with veteran Ed C. Lowrey as Parade Marshal and including musical organizations from near and far.

The famed Black Diamond Rodeo will arrive in Warren early on the morning of July 4th, probably just in time for the sunrise bomb and breakfast before setting up. Rodeo Chairman Carl Mazzu feels that his Jaycee committee holds the key to the biggest celebration in years.

Said Carl: When the public sees the blanket of posters and bill boards that will cover Northwest Pennsylvania, it will readily become evident that Warren County seldom has an opportunity to play host to such an outstanding act of universal appeal. Experts are already at work on what is expected to be a considerable traffic and parking problem for both afternoon and evening performances, six of which are scheduled.

The Parade Committee has written letters to top marching bands and drum corps throughout the area and is now in the process of securing a nationally known band as the feature attraction of the parade. Dick Bove, of Radio station WNAE is in charge of band procurement and is pointing toward a complement of fourteen bands to march in the parade.

Nick Wendelboe, who is handling float registration, states that the response has been larger than expected. Among the organizations submitting a float for the first time this year is the Naval Reserve unit in Jamestown. A large model replica of the aircraft carrier FORRESTAL will be its entry. Anyone interested in entering a float in the parade is urged to contact Mr. Wendelboe in the near future.

Plans are also afoot to have a squadron of jet fighter planes perform aerobatics and formation flying overhead throughout the parade according to Jack Lesser who is making arrangements for military participation in the parade. While other committees for the (Turn to Page Sixteen)

CUTS DEPEND UPON EASING OF TENSIONS

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the only way to make real cuts in spending is to bring about an easing of world tensions.

And, he told a news conference, he contemplates two nationwide television-radio addresses in an effort to muster public support for his budget and general legislative program.

Eisenhower said he first thought he could do the job in one TV-radio talk, but found he couldn't cover all the ground in less than two.

No specific dates for the talks have yet been set, he said.

As for his budget, Eisenhower said it would be possible to make some minor reductions in his $71,800,000,000 spending proposals. It would be strange, he added, if Congress with all its experience could not find some savings.

But Eisenhower said vigorously the budget can't be cut markedly until the international situation has eased very, very greatly.

Eisenhower, trim in a summer weight brown suit, also discussed these matters:

HUMPHREY—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has been telling him for the last two years it will be necessary for him to leave the Cabinet to take care of personal business, but Humphrey has not yet submitted a resignation.

TAX WRITEOFFS—Eisenhower said he agrees with Humphrey and Sen. (Byrd (D-Va.) that rapid tax writeoffs for large business firms should be discontinued or drastically curtailed.

DISARMAMENT—The Soviet Union's proposal for limited "open skies" military inspection is being studied carefully. Eisenhower emphasized, however, that the important thing is not how much acreage the Russians are willing to open to inspection, but what military installations are located in the area.

STEVENSON—The Eisenhower administration offered Adlai E. Stevenson an assignment with the U. S. delegation to the United Nations three years ago.

MISSILES—Discussing the Defense Department order limiting the Army's development of guided missiles to those of only 200-mile range, Eisenhower questioned the feasibility of letting the Army engage in work on longer range missiles. Why, he asked, would the Army be interested in a missile with a 1,500-mile range. (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Water Rate Hike for Warren Granted by PUC

Harrisburg (AP)—The Public Utility Commission has authorized the Warren Water Co. to raise its rates $52,000 a year—the first increase by the utility in 35 years.

The PUC decision announced yesterday said that all public fire protection rates will go up a week from today.

The company asked for more money to meet higher operating costs. It told the PUC that revenue has not kept pace with material and labor costs.

The company serves almost 4,500 consumers in Warren.

Public Service Committee of Warren Borough Council has closed with WWC officials and their decision whether to protest the rate increase or not will be given at the May council session convening next Monday evening.

Sen. Clark Urges Approval Of Fund For Work on Kinzua Dam

Washington (AP)—Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) said today that in view of the frequency of floods in western Pennsylvania, to delay construction of the proposed Kinzua Dam on the upper Allegheny River would be "false economy."

In letters to Sen. Ellender (D-La.) and Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), Clark urged committee approval of a one million dollar appropriation to begin construction of the huge flood control dam near Warren, Pa.

Ellender and Cannon head congressional subcommittees now studying the Kinzua project, along with numerous others in President Eisenhower's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The dam, to cost an estimated 125 million dollars, would be near the New York border. Its reservoir would flood the Complanter Indian reservation in Pennsylvania and much of the Seneca federal reservation in New York.

For this reason some opposition has developed to construction of the project, the last major facility remaining to be built under a vast flood control program worked on (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Hal Boyle's Column

New York (AP)—If you suspect someone is putting poison in your evening yogurt, cheer up. It may not be, as your friends insist, a delusion. You might be right.

Dr. Theodore C. Osius, writing on the historic art of poisoning in the University of Michigan's "Medical Bulletin," says: "It is estimated that 50 per cent of murders are unsolved each year, and it may be that secret poisoning is even now far more frequent than is generally believed."

The reason for the popularity of poison as a murder weapon thruout all the ages of man is put succinctly by Dr. Osius.

"Even when poisoning cases come to trial, the medicolegal problems make it difficult to reach a clear verdict," he says.

An early knowledge of poisons is a hallmark of almost any civilization; indeed, it is a test of civilization.

Dr. Osius points out that Menes, the first Pharaoh—3,000 B. C.—was familiar not only with mineral poisons but also such vegetable poisons.

Poison has at times been used as an instrument of government policy from the heyday of the ancient Greeks to Nazi Germany.

During the 16th and 17th centuries in Venice, the government even officially recorded its poison victims, the reasons they were assassinated, and the fees paid.

"One specialist in murder, John of Ragusa, offered a selection of poisons and proposed victims," writes Dr. Osius.

"Five hundred ducats was his price for a great Sultan, 150 for the King of Spain, 60 for the Duke of Milan, 50 for the Marquis of Mantua, and 100 for the Pope."

But he makes clear that the art of administering poisons has always been one field in which women have enjoyed equal rights. Often the female of the species has been far deadlier than the male.

For example, a gal named Locusta was official poisoner-in-ordinary to the Emperor Nero, who even, provided her with slaves to experiment on. She repaid him nobly by helping him bump off his stepbrother, his mother and his wives.

But the queen of all lady poisoners was Toffana, a Renaissance vixen in Naples, who numbered among her 600 victims two Popes and a large number of socially prominent husbands whose only crime was that they bored their wives.

A real creative girl, Toffana's favorite poison was a cosmetic. Rub a little on your skin after shaving, boys, and-hello undertaker!

Somebody with political pull finally got annoyed at her fun-loving, girlish pranks, so they stretched her on the rack until she confessed, then strangled her. Her nearest male rival in modern times was Landru, the French "Bluebeard," who obtained the life savings of 253 women by posing as a well-to-do widower. He abandoned some of his victims, poisoned others.

Oddly, since they practice the subtlest method of murder, poisoners are notoriously conservative about the potions they rely on. They are rarely adventurous. "Unusual poisons are the exception," concludes Dr. Osius on a note of disapproval. "Throughout history the poisoner has used the same drugs and methods and has continued to make the same mistakes as his predecessors."

Thomas Flexible To Exhibit at Design Engineering Show

The Thomas Flexible Coupling Co., of Warren, will be among 375 exhibitors to welcome some 20,000 design engineers to the 2nd Design Engineering Show, when it opens its doors at the New York Coliseum on May 20, for a four-day period ending May 23.

The show, which has grown in one year to a size which places it among the five largest annual industrial expositions, is the show-place for the original equipment market where products which go into the making of end products are demonstrated. It will bring to New York engineers from virtually every major factory in this country and Canada, and visitors from 15 other nations.

The exhibiting companies, including many of the largest in the country, will display component parts, materials, fasteners, finishes and coatings, shapes and forms, and accessories to product development. They have assigned some 4,000 of their own engineers to the task of explaining exhibits and answering visitors' questions. Concurrently with the show, the machine design division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will sponsor a three-day conference on design engineering problems, May 20-22. The conference will open with a panel discussion on "Procedures in Developing New Designs" and will have sessions on the mechanical, materials, and electrical aspects of design engineering.

Last year $320.97 was collected on tag day. Of this amount $152.90 was presented to the Supreme Council of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm for its national program of aid and research. The balance of the tag day collection, together with financial support from the

First County Fair In History Of Cornplanter Council Boy Scouts Planned For May 1958

A busy year of exciting program for Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers was planned at a meeting of the operating committees of the Chief Cornplanter Council with the executive board of the Council at the United Refining Company Office building.

Highlight of the years' activities will be a Scout County Fair which will be held May 23 and 24, 1958. All Scout units of the council will have one or more booths in which they will have live exhibits of crafts and skills. Arent type shows are planned, and some of the suggestions included Indian Dancing Competition, a Cub Scout Pinewood Derby, and the Chief Cornplanter pageant which was so well received at Camp Olmsted.

Program was planned for the year beginning in September of 1957. Each of the seven operating committees presented a calendar of activities, which was then voted upon by the board.

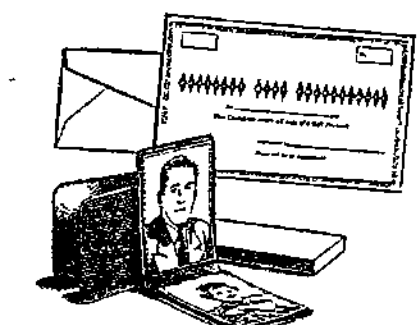

DATES, BING—Hollywood is talking about the dates Bing Crosby had with Pat Sheehan, above, during his recent visit to Las Vegas. "Inseparable" is the word Hollywooders use for the crooner, and the Tropics show girl.

DEATH RUMORED—Reports have circulated through Berlin that Wilhelm Pieck, East German president, is dead. The 30-year-old official has been ill with a circulatory ailment. The rumor apparently started when a number of automobiles appeared in front of his residence.

The Fall Round-up this year will be in the form of an "Active Membership Campaign" in which recruiting will be done by pairs of boys or adults, working just as they would in a fund raising campaign—with the goal of active members instead of dollars. The campaign will kick off with a Conclave for the heads of institutions which now sponsor Scouting and for the heads of institutions which are prospective sponsors. The campaign will close with a victory rally November 30.

A Cub Scout Leaders Pow-Wow on November 16 will highlight the training program for the year. Basic training courses will be offered in October and March, Advanced training in September, December, March and June. Junior Leaders training will be given in May, and will be in preparation for the County Fair.

A First Aid Meet for Scout Troops will be the highlight of the Health and Safety Committee's Activity, and is scheduled for October. During 1958 Scout units throughout the council will cooperate in a nation-wide Safety good turn, with emphasis on Highway safety, outdoor safety, and home safety.

The Eagle Scout Dinner, sponsored by the Elks, will be the Highlight of the Advancement program.

In addition to the active membership campaign, and the County Fair, the Activities committee announced that the celebration of Scout Anniversary week—February 7 to 13—will feature a Recognition Day for unit leaders. A Philmont Expedition is planned for next summer.

The finance committee announced plans to continue its simultaneous campaigning—with Scouters in the Chest Areas of the Council supporting the chest campaigns.

The Mature Parent

How to Be Peaceful With Child's Resentful Protests

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

THE just-arrived picture magazine was on the chair where Howard's big sister had dropped it when she ran to answer the telephone.

It had opened to some colored photographs of missies. Howard was ploughing through one of the captions when his sister returned. Because he'd long resented her first claim to the magazine, he refused to surrender it. Running to the kitchen, she called, "Mother, he's got my magazine again. Make him give it up."

Authority spoke. "You shouldn't have started reading it when you knew she hadn't finished it. I'll tell you something else. I'm sick and tired of falling over those galoshes of yours in the pantry. Go and take them up to your closet . . ."

AS Howard obeyed, he muttered, "Go soak your head, why don't you?"

His mother ignored this release of resentment. But she had a horribly unpleasant feeling that she'd done the wrong thing.

For her parents had never ignored their children's protests of resentment. When they inflicted what their offspring felt was injustice, they always met a resentful protest with the question, "What's that? What did I hear you say?"

It was a rhetorical one. The parents of Howard's mother had no interest whatever in what their angry children had said. What they wanted was denial of what had been said. And they usually got it because they consistently punished "back talk."

So Howard's mother felt weak-minded and uncomfortable in herself for permitting it to him.

THOUGH she's read many child psychology books urging us to allow Howard to protest obedience when he submits to it, her trust of her personal experience's authority overwhelmed the books' authority in her mind. Just as though she'd never read them, she felt increasing resentment at Howard for involving her in failure to maintain the parental discipline made trustworthy to her by her own experience.

That she wasn't even aware of her resentment is a point in favor of the books. It's how they fail us, however. We can't possibly be peaceful with children's resentful protests until we've accepted our own protesting feelings with content.

CERAMICS DESIRED FOR ANNUAL SHOW

During its 10-year history, the Talent Recognition Art Show sponsored by the Woman's Club has always included a display of ceramics, and it is hoped all amateur potters of the county will bring in examples of their work May 16 and 17 for inclusion in the show which opens May 20.

Last year's ceramics exhibit was outstanding, showing examples of both original moulding and of glazing to poured pieces. Any Warren county resident may place two entries in the show. These may both be ceramics if no painting entries are made. Mrs. Raymond Lowe is chairman of the ceramics section of the 1957 Art Show.

All in Readiness For Players Final Show This Season

Warren Players' Club curtain goes up for the last time this season on Thursday and Friday evenings in the Woman's Club auditorium, when Dave Smith will be directing "The Solid Gold Cadillac."

Lalla Stebel will be seen in the leading role of Laura Patridge, supported by a large cast of both veterans and newcomers to the Players' stage.

Bill Rice will be delivering the narration throughout the show, the role originally taken by Fred Allen when the Broadway hit opened in 1933.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" had a successful three-year run on Broadway and on the road, and Hollywood made a successful screen adaptation of the story, starring Judy Holiday.

Although staging of the production is difficult, requiring a number of sets and a screen to project news, Director Smith states the Warren club has successfully mastered the difficulties and all is in readiness for the May 9 opening.

Box office at the Woman's Club will be open this evening and Wednesday evening, from 7:00 until 9:00, for those wishing to telephone reservations or to call personally. Single admissions are still available for both nights.

Marriage Is Just the Next Step After 'Going Steady'

"MARRIAGE is breaking out like measles in our high school," a teacher reports.

"It started in the senior class and now our 10th and 11th graders are being bitten by the marriage bug. A number of them have already married and dropped out of school. And judging by the engagement rings and the mooning in classes, the epidemic isn't letting up."

What does this teacher blame for these early marriages that are interrupting educations, plopping kids into adult responsibilities when they should be enjoying the freedom of youth, putting an end to parental hopes and ambitions for sons and daughters?

She blames going steady for giving so many youths the idea they are ready for marriage long before they actually are.

"After all," she says, "where do you go from going steady but to marriage? It's just the next step."

PARENTS GIVE UP

SHE confesses that she would feel sorrier for the parents of these high school youths if they hadn't thrown up their hands when their children started going steady and said, "There's nothing we can do about it."

She figures that is just being short-sighted and irresponsible. And that any parent who lets a child start going steady at 14 shouldn't be surprised if the child gets married at 16.

Undoubtedly she has a point. Any parent who can't talk a 14-year-old out of going steady, can't really hope to talk him out of marriage when he is a few years older.

Youths who have never been made to wait for anything can hardly be expected to wait for marriage until they are old enough to make wise choices and to assume adult responsibilities.

orial Field at 11:50. All girls, with their leaders, should gather outside the gates and in their designated places before that time. When the groups are complete, they will be shown to their places in the bleachers by a guide.

Once a group has been shown to its place, the girls may eat their lunches, visit the various booths, etc., until 12:50, when they will again return to their places to await the beginning of the performance.

The gates will close at 12:50 and no one will be allowed to enter the Field until after the Flag Ceremony is completed.

Hot and cold sandwiches, coffee, soft drinks, potato chips, pretzels, and various other snacks will be on sale in booths. Groups planning to set up booths should be at the Field at 11:00 a. m. for that purpose. The booths will be open for the hour preceding the performance, closed during the Festival, and will re-open immediately following it.

A special note is being issued to the public. Anyone interested in attending the Festival is cordially invited. However, it is requested that spectators plan to be on hand before the gates close at 12:50 to avoid confusion and so that no part of the program will be missed.

WSCS MEETING

Lander—Mrs. Donald Ludwick presided at the regular meeting of WSCS members, with Rev. Gustav Erickson conducting devotions and Mrs. Myron Ludwick reporting on the district meeting she and Mrs. Harry Ludwick attended at Westfield.

A smorgasbord was planned for May 25, with captains in charge; Mrs. Myron Ludwick was elected delegate to the WSCS conference at Oil City May 15-16.

Mrs. Donald Ludwick read a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Everett Woodcock, missionaries in Africa; Mrs. William Wiltse sang a solo; Rev. Erickson gave a talk.

Dinner was served by Mrs. Emerson Spicer, Mrs. Ruth Swanson and Mrs. Stuart Falconer.

It's a Fabric for Many Climates

Lightweight wool takes its place in most wardrobes for spring and right into summer, where it goes traveling both in this country and abroad. Suit by Ben Reig in checked men's wear (right) has bolero jacket and high-riding peg skirt. White silk gilet (left) is by Ben Reig. Bloused jacket is worn with ascot of white silk organza. The sheath dress (center) as done by Jane Derby has a fly-away touch of white in its wide organza ruff.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When you combine the color gray, the fabric wool and a touch of white all in one design, you have high fashion for spring.

The wool will be lightweight, of course. It may be so thin as to be nearly sheer but it will stand up well in spite of its fragility.

The touch of white will come in the form of a chiffon blouse, a silk organza ruff, gilet or collar. The gray will be a gentle gray, one that takes readily to the gleam of black patent or even a dash of red.

When spring melts quickly into summer, as it now always seems to do, the dress needn't be packed away. Times have changed to the extent that a good portion of the spring wardrobe is put to use during summer travel, too.

Both in this country and abroad, there are many climates where wool suits and dresses are essential at the end of the day when the warmth of the sun is gone.

Most travelers to Europe in summer wouldn't think of making the trip without woolen suits and dresses. And most add a wool sweater or two for those damp and chilly evenings.

Over Hundred Baptist Women Enjoy Banquet and Entertaining Program

More than 100 women of Calvary and First Baptist churches gathered in the dining room of the latter last evening to enjoy a delightful banquet.

Tables were beautifully decorated with flowering plants and tall tapers. Seated at the speakers' table were Mrs. J. Walter Thompson, mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Clarence Swanson, Mrs. Foster Maze, Mrs. Henry Blick, Jr., Mrs. Ella Hibner, Mrs. Myron Rydholm, Joyce Rydholm, Mrs. Ivan Rydholm, Mrs. Edith Haglund, Mrs. Carl Elmquist, the guest speaker, Mrs. Kenneth Kolmodin, Eleanor Swanson, Mrs. Paul Obinger and Mrs. Philomena Quist.

Mrs. Thompson welcomed all present, thanking First Baptist members for their generous cooperation in use of their dining hall.

Following the Doxology, Mrs. Swanson led in prayer and read from the Scriptures. A pink carnation corsage was presented to Mrs. Kolmodin by Elsie Hollabaugh, president of Calvary women.

As the banquet progressed, Mrs. Maze sang a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Swanson; toasts were given by Mrs. Myron Rydholm and Mrs. Carl Elmquist, daughter and mother respectively; a poem was read by Edith Haglund; a vocal solo was given by Mrs. Blick.

Mrs. James Holmberg led group singing, with a special chorus presented by youngsters in attendance, Sally Confer, Glenn Graves, Betty Selander, Lodusky Hollabaugh, Karen Wagner, Pamela Holmberg, Barbara Donham, Deborah Spangler and Karen Foreman.

A humorous note was added by a skit portraying a mock wedding and given by Calvary members. Elaine Backstrom served as a plants, which served as table centerpieces, to all mothers, present over 70 years of age, these including Mrs. C. O. Swanson, Mrs. Amanda Holmberg, Mrs. Philomena Quist, Mrs. Jennie Danielson, Mrs. Elma Nelson and Mrs. Jay Lyon. Plants were also designated for four aged mothers unable to attend, Mrs. Anna Samuelson, Mrs. I. Albert Fravel, Mrs. Alma Anderson and Mrs. Grace Johnson.

The banquet, under the able direction of Janet Ahlgren, was expertly served by men of the church, who were extended a "thank you song" of appreciation. The men included James Holmberg, Clarence Swanson, Harold Swanson, Glen Graves, George Spangler, Karl Hoffman, Kenneth Brown, Elmer Danielson, Henry Blick, Sr., and B. E. Shellin.

Newlyweds Given Russell Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Yeagle, married May 4 in Washington, D. C., and presently honeymooning in this area, were honored guests last evening for a delightful reception given by his grandmothers, Mrs. Anna Yeagle and Mrs. John Van Orsdale.

The bride is the former Helen Marie Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Cooper of Walkersville, W. Va.; Mr. Yeagle's parents were the late Frances and Howard Yeagle.

The wedding took place at 7:00 p. m. Saturday in Fountain Memorial Baptist church in Washington, the Rev. Charles Holland officiating. Attending the couple were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hester. A reception followed the nuptials.

Spring flowers and a beautiful wedding cake featured appointments at last night's reception, with approximately 100 guests present to remember the couple with lovely gifts and best wishes.

The newlyweds left this morning for Washington, where they will reside at 1033 Wahler Place. The bride was graduated from Walkersville High School in 1954 and is employed in the office of the Bell Telephone Company in Washington. Mr. Yeagle, Warren High alumnus in the same year, is serving with the Marines at Quantico, Va. Formerly a member of The President's Guard in the nation's capital, he expects to be released from active duty June 28.

WHITEFIELD CIRCLE

George Whitefield Circle of First Methodist church held its May meeting in Dunham parlors of the church, with devotions by Frances O'Neill. The program was in charge of Mrs. Howard Lauffenberger, who gave an interesting book review on Home Missions.

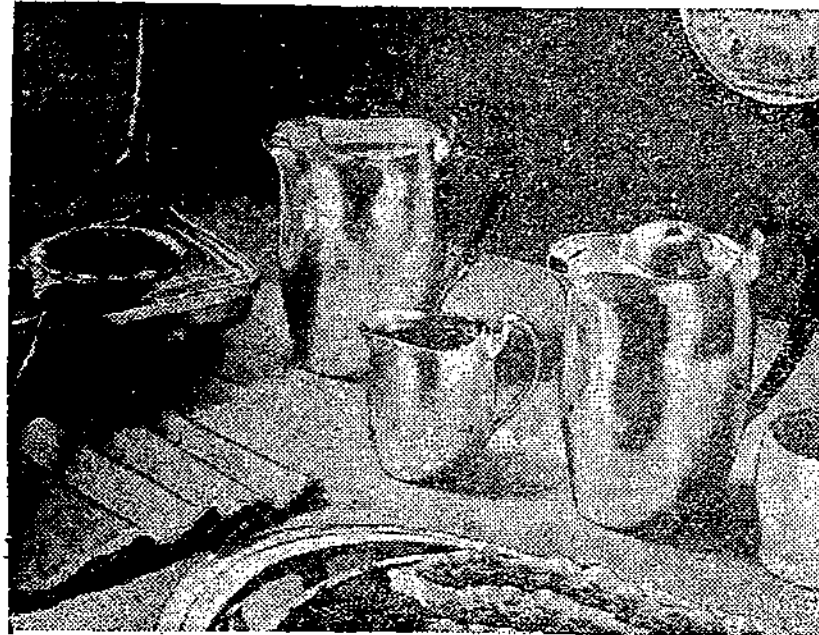

Following a discussion period, Mrs. Charles Eaton conducted the business session. As part of their service project, members made pads for the Cancer Society. Refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. Annabel Johnson, Mrs. Howard Lauffenberger and Mrs. Willard Johnson.

Next meeting of the group will be in the form of a picnic on Thursday, June 6.

FARRAHETTE MEETING

All Farrahettes are urged to be in attendance for their regular meeting at 8:00 p. m. Thursday in the Grotto rooms.

Modern Silverware Is Designed for Versatility

Silver-plated hollow ware serves the bride in many ways. Here the pitcher holds batter for pancake supper cooked at table. Small pitcher is used for syrup. Serving tray with removable wooden insert holds bacon while steaming coffee stands by in hot-beverage server with insulated jet handle. (Oneida)

BY KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer

ALTHOUGH today's bride cherishes the enduring beauty of fine silver as deeply as her mother and her grandmother did, she adopts a modern attitude towards its place in her new home. Simpler table settings and new many-duty designs in flatware and hollow ware are replacing the battery of specialized pieces that once cluttered a silver chest.

Freshly proportioned forks, knives and spoons provide correct service for any meal. As a result she can do more with less silver than her mother could.

With a basic 16-piece service for four, she can set a gracious table. This service usually consists of place forks, place knives, salad forks and teaspoons. Additions are welcome, of course—especially extra teaspoons, which can be used in so many ways.

The best bets in silver-plated hollow ware for a new household are: an attractive pitcher, a coffee server, sugar bowl and creamer, a tray, a many-purposed serving dish and a sauce boat.

Silver should be used. The more you use it, the less it will need polishing. And the more ways you use it, the more you'll enjoy it.

A pitcher, for example, doesn't have to be restricted to water or iced drinks. Use it to hold batter for a pancake supper where the cakes are made to order at the table.

Delicate floral motif highlights this bridal table. Sterling silver flatware has modern asymmetric handles accented with border of tiny flowers. Motif is picked up in damask cloth and napkins, wedding cake and artificial flower sprigs on boxes of groom's cake for guests to take home.

Use silver dishes to hold flowers or fruit. A sugar bowl makes a fine cigarette caddy. From the point of view of patterns, the curved asymmetric line takes the lead. A rich touch of ornamentation is often added, especially in flatware. Flower motifs bloom on silver, sometimes as a border along one edge. Silver hollow ware teams up in some designs with polished wood or plastic.

Jaycee Mid-Summer Mardi Gras work openly on their plans for their particular activity, very little is known about the Queen's Coronation Ball, to be held on Tuesday, July 2nd, from 9-11, immediately following the coronation of the Queen of the Mardi Gras by Miss America. Bill Hill and his committee have, however, been working as diligently to keep plans a complete secret as some have to reveal each aspect of the hang-up week.

This much is sure. There will be a dance; completely different from the usual street dance that has been held in the past. It will feature the newly-elected Queen and her court plus an appearance by Miss Marian Ann McNight the Georgia Southern Belle who is not only Miss America but is also, we are told, the inspiration for the calypso tune that is her first name. It has been rumored that she will sit and dance before the eyes of the gathered throng, and that said sited sand will then be auctioned to the highest bidder. All this is mere rumor. As the big evening draws nearer, plans will be unfolded one at a time.

When queried as to the reason for all the secrecy, Chairman Hill revealed that it is entirely possible that tickets may be at a premium, and he desires no general stampede until his intrepid committee is fully prepared for the onslaught.

for years in western Pennsylvania and neighboring states.

Clark recently investigated the practicality of going ahead with the Kinzua large dam project. A check with the Army Corps of Engineers convinced him that the large dam would be more feasible than a series of smaller dams on a network of streams in the area.

His letter to the subcommittee chairman made no mention of opposition to the project but declared that flood control is "essential in the important residential and industrial Allegheny Valley."

"It would protect Warren, Pa., against the maximum flood of record, and in conjunction with the existing Tonawanda Reservoir would practically eliminate Allegheny River floods at Oil City and Franklin, Pa." Clark said.

"Flood protection would be afforded to Pittsburgh and other highly industrialized areas in the Ohio Valley. The engineering studies showed that all these economic benefits would outweigh the costs."

NICKERSON—Asked whether he thought Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., acted properly in making public the Air Force-Army controversy over development of an intermediate range ballistic missile. Eisenhower replied that the only complaint he had received regarding Nickerson was that the Army officer had exposed secret papers to public view.

EURATUM—Plans of Western European nations to develop atomic power for peaceful uses will have slight, if any, effect on the administration's projected $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program.

ATOMIC WEAPONS—Discussing proposals for holding up production of atomic weapons and converting the nuclear materials to peaceful uses, Eisenhower said he assumed that under such a program nuclear weapons would not be produced.

inmates actually took part in the demonstration, although all returned to the cell block after the uproar started in the prison yard.

Warden O. J. Nygaard said the convicts spent the night without incident. He blamed the riot on "seven or eight ornery guys," described as chronic troublemakers at the prison. Nygaard said no disciplinary moves have been decided on as yet.

Greyhound Is Boosting Express Package Service

Claude Johnson, Greyhound agent in Warren, has announced that a group of company officials are in the area today and tomorrow promoting an improved and expanded package express service. The Greyhound system is now offering to take packages to 8,000 towns across the country, offering shippers the option of prepaid or collect express.

In addition, said Johnson, Greyhound can now offer bus to air, or air to bus service for speedy delivery. If enough additional Greyhound express users materialize, added Johnson, more buses and better passenger service will result.

Those interested may call the bus station and the representatives will call on them. Information bro-

Car Hits Hydrant in Youngsville Early Today

A car hit a fire hydrant in Youngsville about 12:40 a. m. today and quite an uproar ensued. Police Chief J. E. Chappel said a man identified as Wm. Bouchard, about 40, of the old Pittsfield-Youngsville Road was heading west on Route 6 when his old model car veered into a hydrant in front of Monty Sellin's residence, 230 West Main street.

A passenger in the vehicle, Art Bacon, about 33, of Union City, had his head pushed through the windshield by force of the impact which ripped a door from the car.

An ambulance was called but it took a bit of persuasion before Mr. Bacon could be persuaded to go to Warren General Hospital where he was treated for facial lacerations and cut fingers.

Boston (A)—Nearly 1,000 firefighters today saved the fashionable town of Manchester, Mass., from ruin by one of dozens of fires that roared through tinder-dry New England forests.

Dozens of forest fires also broke out in New York State's parched forests, in eastern Pennsylvania and parts of New Jersey.

All New England states but Maine have closed forests because of the drought.

He remained silent, he said, because answers might incriminate him. But a judge ruled him in contempt of court.

She's Radiant on the Big Day

On her wedding day, every girl wants to look radiant. She must handle make-up and hairdo with care, in order to look lovely the entire day. Our bride-to-be gives her complexion a thorough cleansing on the big day. Then she (left) uses a liquid foundation to spread a gossamer film of color over her skin and aid her powder in clinging hours longer. This is the basis for a lovely, fresh look. She tucks a pressed powder compact into her bridesmaid's purse to carry to the reception. Then she can use it (center) for quick touch-ups after the many hugs from enthusiastic well-wishers. The result is a picture pretty bride (right), looking the way every girl wants to look all through her wedding day.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

THE weeks preceding her wedding are hectic for the bride. Her carefully planned days are upset by surprise showers and parties, and time scheduled for shopping and other necessary preparations must be frequently rearranged. All too often the future bride arrives home each night worn out.

Naturally, she wants to look her loveliest on her wedding day. And she should remember that a radiant complexion will perfect her appearance. In planning details of her wedding, complexion beauty belongs at the top of her list. And no matter how tired she may feel, she should make the effort necessary for a quick three-step beauty routine.

Each night during the weeks before the wedding, the bride-to-be should cleanse her skin with her favorite cleansing cream. After the cream has been massaged off, skin lotion should be applied with strong, upward motions. Next, pat the skin gently with cotton moistened with lotion and follow with a night cream. The procedure takes but a few minutes.

Make-up for the bride and her attendants should be dainty, not harsh or deep. If a girl customarily wears vivid make-up, she would do well to tone it down for her wedding. She would be smart, too, to plan her make-up in advance. By collecting powder base and powder, lipstick, nail polish, rouge and eye make-up early, she can wear them all and get used to them. On her wedding day she can do the job with a practiced hand.

A liquid make-up base, obtainable for dry or normal skin, is worth trying. Its makers claim it spreads a delicate, tinted veil across the complexion and helps powder cling hours longer.

If the skin tones are good, foundation and powder should be selected in the shade nearest the skin's own tone. A pink base will brighten a sallow skin; rachel will tone down a too pinky skin.

Lipstick should be a medium pink shade. Eye make-up will make the eyes look bigger and deeper, but it should be used lightly.

There is a pressed-powder compact available at all cosmetic counters that can be tucked into the bridesmaid's purse for the bride's use. It contains powder and foundation in one, and comes in shades to match her face powder. It will be mighty handy for these quick touch-ups necessary during the reception.

Diligent care of the complexion in the prewedding weeks and careful adherence to delicate make-up on her wedding day should give any bride a complexion that will be glowingly lovely.

LONG, LONG AGO—The Coconut Grove in Los Angeles has had its face lifted many times, but it's still kept its reputation as one of the most glamorous of night clubs. This picture, taken more than 20 years ago, shows the famous palm trees, which may make modern designers wince, but are a hallmark of the club. Lionel Barrymore once smuggled a live monkey into the club—then turned him loose in the palms.

Carmelite Nuns Lock Doors on All Worldly Contacts

Erle Morning News: The nuns of the newly established Carmelite Order Sunday afternoon shut themselves away from the world following dedication of their brick quarters on E. Gore Rd.

Some 12,000 persons visited the monastery during open house which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Most of the visitors — about 7,500—came on Sunday.

The highlight of the ceremony late Sunday afternoon was the locking of the door connecting the convent with two rooms adjacent to the chapel. Mother Mary of Jesus Crucified, prioress, turned the key in the door, symbolizing the end of the contact between the nuns and the public.

While the door was being locked, Archbishop John Mark Gannon with his thumb traced the sign of the cross on the door. Just before this, he handed the mother superior a document setting down the boundaries of the convent. The members of the order cannot cross over these boundaries.

A low pontifical mass was celebrated by Archbishop John J. Swint, bishop of Wheeling, W. Va., after Archbishop Gannon blessed the chapel adjoining the convent.

The nuns who established the monastery here came from a Carmelite group in Wheeling.

A sermon was delivered by Bishop William E. McCarty, Rapid City, S. D., a native of Crossville.

He told of the purpose of the convent. "The nuns will pray and do penance for the whole world," the clergymen said. "Here they will find God, here they will pray day and night, here they will be happy and joyful."

At the mass the black robed nuns made their appearance in public. After the services they filed into the convent from the chapel.

Only in rare instances, like emergency medical treatment, will the nuns be permitted to leave the confines of the monastery.

CUPID BUSY WITH YOUNGER SET

As the school term enters the final weeks, and Seniors busy with plans for Commencement and Graduation, it is interesting to note that getting married and raising a family has become increasingly popular among the younger set.

Since World War II the median age at first marriage has decreased by one and one-third years, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company point out. It now stands at 23 years for men and 20 years for women. As a result, the married population at the younger ages has increased markedly, and there are now more than one and one-half times as many married men under age 25 as there were in 1940.

Equally noteworthy is the increase in the proportion of young couples with children, reflecting largely the baby boom incidental to World War II and its aftermath, the statisticians say. The number of births in the United States has reached a new high in each of the last six years, the 1956 figure being more than 4,200,000 compared to 2,560,000 in 1940.

Most of these babies are born to young parents. Births in families where the husband is under 20 increased since 1940 by more than 140 percent to about 98,000 in 1955; and even in the 20-34 group, the rise in births exceeded 60 per cent.

In more than one-half of the families which had a baby during 1955, the husband was under 30 years of age; in 90 per cent of the total, the father was under 40.

"The earlier phase of the baby boom was characterized by a sharp rise in first and second births," the Metropolitan statisticians report. "More recently, the boom has been sustained by unusually large numbers of children born in established families. Last year there was a record total of about 1,300,000 third and fourth children born in our country. These babies comprised almost one-third of the total—a higher proportion than for any year since World War I."

MOTHER'S DAY PROCLAMATION

President Eisenhower calls upon all citizens to participate in a wide observance of Mother's Day next Sunday.

"Let all the sons and daughters of this country pay tribute to their mothers on the appointed day and renew their devotion to the high principles of humanity which mothers exemplify," he says in a proclamation.

County officials, Sugar Grove Firemen, school students and others who participated in the search for Elmer A. Loomis, well known county man found dead on a lonely road in Freehold township Tuesday morning, are to be commended for their efforts. It might be added that the success of the hunt in so short a time resulted from the practices that were adopted by those in charge, learned after numerous experiences in the woods on similar expeditions in past years.

Boys planning to compete in the Second Annual Soap Box Derby to be held in connection with the Mid-Summer Mardi Gras sponsored by the Jaycees should note the inspection of entries will get under way during the week of June 10th. Incidentally the third in a series of clinics will be held this evening at seven o'clock in Rooms 5 and 6 at the Warren Y. M. C. A., and every boy planning to enter is urged to be on hand.

The rubbish collection in connection with the annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up campaign sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce continues this evening, with pickup scheduled for the west side of town, and the south side.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.—Hebrews 12:2.

The cross was two pieces of dead wood; and a helpless, unresisting Man was nailed to it; yet it was mightier than the world, and triumphed, and will ever triumph over it.—Hare.

No Life Net Required

Here and There

A mass evacuation of 1,448 men, women and children from the city of Binghamton turned into a Sunday picnic in the peaceful, rural village of Deposit, N. Y., according to press dispatches. The experiences related by those who participated in the alert provide an excellent lesson for readers of the Times-Mirror to remember, when similar projects are staged here. The Civil Defense test, largest ever attempted in the nation, was designed to help officials in their planning for dangers of the H-bomb age. Raoul Archambault, executive assistant to the federal Civil Defense administrator, said afterward the exercise would be "cited across the land as a demonstration of the type of thing that can be done. It refutes the talk of apathy to civil defense in America." The evacuation was accomplished by automobile, train and bus. The 28-mile trip over a winding mountainous road from Binghamton went off without a hitch, even though about 200 automobiles in the cavalcade traveled without restriction, as though the occupants were panic-stricken. The train carried 110 persons, among them adults who posed as "litter cases" and "children" separated from their parents. In Deposit, a village of 2,000 population, raid wardens steered the evacuees to the many homes that had opened their doors. The village high school served as general headquarters, where medical treatment, food and other services were available. The exercise, tabbed "Evac. 12," had been worked out to the smallest detail over a year-long period by the New York Civil Defense Commission, in cooperation with local officials. The evacuees were residents of a ward on the outskirts of Binghamton, an area where people might escape a direct bomb hit. However, officials said the test also was planned with the idea that residents might be evacuated ahead of a bombing. In an attack, Deposit would be expected to handle upward of 10,000 people. As sirens wailed the first warning at 12:15 p. m., men and women herded children into buses and 374 private cars, that stood by on the streets of Binghamton. The first 200 cars set out at their own pace. Thirty minutes later the remaining cars left. They kept to a 30-mile speed limit and maintained a fixed distance between vehicles. The purpose was to observe the difference between controlled and uncontrolled traffic. Complicated card systems were used to keep track of the influx at Deposit. The test was designed to emphasize the importance of rural areas should cities be knocked out of action by H-bomb attack.

Warren Thinclads Resume Winning Ways at Jamestown Tuesday

BRIGG'S BOYS DO THINGS IN RIGHT WAY, WIN NINE FIRSTS

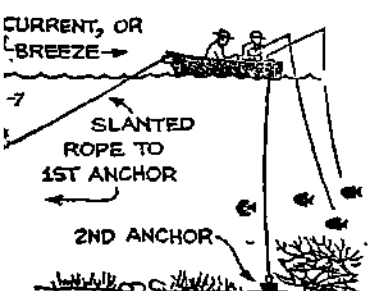

The vaunted power of Coach Val Brigg's 1957 Warren High school track aggregation came to fore again yesterday afternoon at Jamestown as the Dragons huffed out a 60% to 43% over faded Raiders.

Local thinclads proved tops in 12 events and failed only in the 180-yard low hurdles to be at least a second. Second places were split seven to five in favor of Jamestown.

Text meet will be Friday at Warren in a triangular session with Youngville and Corry, and which was bogged out April 19.

The win yesterday gave the local inters, leapers and heavers their 10th triumph of the season.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

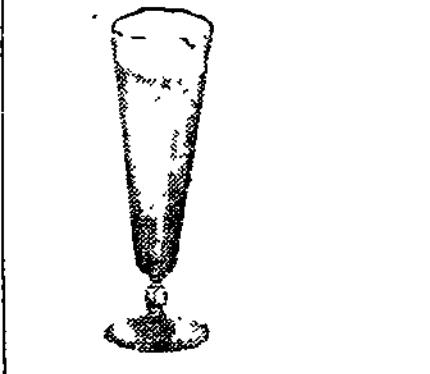

Batting—Ted Williams, Red Sox—Hit his sixth homer, singled and walked three times in five at bats to drive in three runs in Boston's 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.
Pitching—Bob Lemon, Indians—Hurled six-hit ball after relieving the injured Herb Score in the first inning and went on to win his second game of the season as Cleveland snapped the New York Yankees' six-game winning streak with a 2-1 triumph.

SO THAT WAS IT!—Gene Fullmer didn't know what hit him in the fifth round at the Chicago Stadium, but will never forget this picture of the left hook to the jaw with which Sugar Ray Robinson regained middleweight title.

GOOD STOCK—Fishing promises to be good in Wisconsin this summer as some 2,000 large northern pike are being moved from overstocked spots to other water in the area. Charles Gahler of the state conservation department is shown stocking a lake near Wausau. Lots of fight in these fish.

Hal Jeffcoat Pitches Redlegs To Eighth Successive Victory; Braves Downed By the Phils

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Birdie Tebbetts' unwavering faith in his much-maligned pitchers has begun to pay off for the "good-hit, no-pitch" Cincinnati Redlegs.

Last night, for the third game in succession, Tebbetts found a pitcher who could go nine innings. As a result the Redlegs have an eight-game winning streak, longest in the majors.

Hal Jeffcoat triumphed 8-2 over Brooklyn, putting Cincinnati half a game behind the second-place Dodgers.

The National League-leading Milwaukee Braves dropped an 8-4 decision to the Philadelphia Phils as Robin Roberts stopped them with six hits. The New York Giants whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5 and the Chicago Cubs took a 14-inning, 10-8 decision from Pittsburgh.

The Cleveland Indians nipped New York 2-1 to snap the Yankees' six-game winning streak but lost the services of Herb Score for an indefinite period. The prize southpaw was struck in the right eye by a hard-hit liner off the bat of Gil McDougald in the first inning.

Bob Lemon took over and held the Yankees to six hits for his second victory in six decisions. Tom Sturdivant, the loser, walked Rocky Colavito in the eighth with the bases full to force home the winning run.

The Yankees retained their half-game, first-place lead over the Chicago White Sox, who were beaten by the Boston Red Sox 4-3. Ted Williams drove in three runs with a single and his sixth home run. Tom Brewer hurled a three-hitter.

Kansas City beat Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings. Vic Power hit home runs on the first and last pitches of the Orioles' Hector Brown.

Detroit spoiled Cookie Lavagetto's managerial debut with Washington, defeating the Senators 5-3 behind the three-hit pitching of Paul Foytack.

The Reds pounded three Brooklyn pitchers for 14 hits, including run-scoring doubles by their hottest hitter, Don Hoak, who leads the league with a .410 batting average. Johnny Podres, who pitched the first seven innings for Brooklyn, was charged with his second defeat.

Warren Upah suffered his first defeat of the season, after four victories, when the Phillies blasted

Pirates Rally To Tie Score in Ninth But Lose in 14th

Pittsburgh, (P)—Fans attending night baseball games at Forbes Field these days might well take along a box lunch.

Early today the stragglers from an original crowd of 9,993 started home after seeing the Pittsburgh Pirates live up to their script. They lost again, this time 10-8 to the Chicago Cubs in 14 innings.

The defeat marked the fourth time in eight days that the Pirates have played night games. It also marked the fourth consecutive night game in which the Pirates failed in the ninth to tie.

Last night three walks helped the Pirates push across the two runs they needed to forge a 6-6 tie.

The teams battled furiously until the 14th when Pitcher Laurin Pepper, recently recalled from Hollywood, took the mound. Pepper had arrived only a few hours before after driving from the west coast and he gave up two singles and a walk to open the inning.

Pinch hitter Bob Speake then singled two men home. A few minutes later, after Manager Bob Bragan had ordered a walk to fill the bases, former Pirate Dale Long spoiled the strategy by lashing out a single to drive in two runs.

The runs that Long accounted for proved to be what the Cubs needed as the Pirates prolonged the four hour and 17 minute game by scoring two runs on three walks and a single. But Jackie Collum, the 6th Cub pitcher, stopped the rally by getting former Cub Dee Fondy on an outfield fly and pinch hitter Dick Rand on an infield pop.

Cleveland's Ace Injured In Right Eye By Line Drive

Cleveland, (P)—Not for two or three days—possibly longer—will doctors be able to tell how seriously Herb Score, Cleveland's southpaw strikeout king, was injured last night when a line drive struck him in the right eye.

The ball, hit by Gil McDougald, veteran New York Yankee infielder, knocked Score to the ground, but he remained conscious. Two cuts were inflicted—one along the eyebrow and the other on the side of his nose, and he bled profusely from the nose and mouth.

He could distinguish light from dark with the damaged eye, Dr. Don Kelly, Tribe physician, said after a preliminary examination.

"He could be perfectly all right but we just won't know for two or three days," Kelly said.

His eye swathed in bandages, Score listened in a Lakeside Hospital bed to a radio broadcast of the late innings in which the Indians won their initial 1957 game with the Yankees 2-1.

The pitch McDougald hit was only the 12th one Score threw, and it came on a 2-2 count. Score said, "it was right down the middle—maybe a little low—and probably straight as a string, and it came back that way".

Cuban Heavyweight Favored To Defeat Holman In Chicago

Portland, Ore., (P)—Nino Valdes, the Cuban ranked ninth among heavyweights, hopes to improve his rating in a nationally televised bout against Johnny Holman of Chicago tonight.

Valdes is established locally as a 2½-to-1 favorite for the bout. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds, but both fighters predicted it would not go the limit, each announcing he was going for a knockout.

For Holman it is an opportunity to climb back into the top 10. Valdes, who once knocked out high-ranking Tommy Jackson, fell down the list after losing twice to Machen and to Bob Baker. Since then, Valdes has made a European tour in which he scored four knockouts in four bouts.

The fighters are evenly matched physically. Each is 6 feet, 3 inches tall, and each expects to enter the ring at about 205 pounds. Each has an 80-inch reach.

Pimlico Rolls Out Preakness Carpet For Derby Winner

Baltimore, (P)—Pimlico rolled out the Preakness carpet today for Calumet Farm's famed one-two punch, Kentucky Derby winner Iron Liege and Gen. Duke.

They were due at the historic race course after arriving in Baltimore by train from Louisville, Ky., scene of Iron Liege's spectacular triumph in the Derby, giving them 10 days to prep for the $100,000-added Preakness.

Pimlico officials also received some encouragement last night after earlier disquieting reports that Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, runner-up in the Derby, probably would not start in the Preakness. Gallant Man was reported "shaken" after a 30-hour train trip to New York from Louisville, but trainer Johnny Nerud later said his powerful runner was in good health.

Willie Hartack disclosed he had decided to ride Gen. Duke in the Preakness. He had been slated to ride the Duke in the Derby but rode Iron Liege after the Duke was scratched because of a hoof injury.

Hartack, echoing the words of Calumet trainer Jimmy Jones, said he still considered Gen. Duke the better colt.

Dressen To Be Relieved Senators' Cynar Says

Detroit (AP) — Calvin Griffith said today he plans to relieve Charlie Dressen as manager of the last-place Washington Senators.

Griffith made an overnight trip from Washington where he had been quoted as saying he planned "drastic changes" after the Senators lost eight straight games, and 16 of their first 20.

Griffith at first refused to comment on a published report that he planned to fire the 58-year-old Dressen, now in his third season at the Senators' helm. Later he said "I don't know how the story got out—only a couple of people knew about it."

Children's Aid Society Voting To Expand Service

The board of directors of the Children's Aid Society of Warren County is proud to announce the proposed expansion of the agency to include family case work service.

Many agencies, organizations, and individuals of Warren county interested in bettering family relationships have expressed the need for and have long urged the organization of such a family service agency. The Children's Aid Society, through many years of work with children, has long realized that the child is best served if his family group can be preserved and that most problems of children are the result of a disrupted family life.

After careful study of community need and of its own program, the board of directors has unanimously recommended that the Society increase the scope of its work to include family casework service.

At the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society, to be held May 16th at 2.00 p. m. at 404 Market street, three proposed changes of the Articles of Incorporation will be voted on to enable the Society to expand its services. This added service to the County can only be accomplished with the cooperation of every member.

All members of the Children's Aid Society are strongly urged to attend the annual meeting or to sign and return the proxy vote cards recently mailed to them, so that they may be a part of this new venture.

Sugar Grove Free Library Meeting

Sugar Grove—The annual meeting of the Sugar Grove Free Library Association was held in the school library, with the librarian, Mrs. Travers Stohberg, conducting the session. The scheduled guest speaker, Sallie Weiler, was unable to be present because of the severe storm.

Nancy Schoonover was elected director of the association to succeed Mabel Reese, who has moved from town.
Mrs. Stohberg reported 1,808 books loaned and 115 new volumes purchased. Books were placed in the library in memory of Clyde Miller, Mrs. Stuart T. Andersen, Thomas Laycock, Mrs. L. P. Denigan, John Abbott, and Anna Mattison.

Mrs. J. A. McIntosh, chairman of the membership drive conducted by the Reading Club, reported $130 received to date and more pledges made. A gift of $10 was received from Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Alexander, of New York, who operate the Deer Run Camp during the summer months.

Following the Library meeting, Mrs. Walter Sweeney conducted a brief business session of the Reading Club, when members voted $10 to the Warren County Youth Ambassador Fund; Mrs. Sweeney named Mrs. Conrad
